San Francisco Day School educates, nurtures, and inspires girls and boys of diverse backgrounds to achieve their highest academic and creative potential, to embrace ethical values, and to become active contributors to their communities.

At San Francisco Day School, we believe that when intellect and imagination are intertwined, students delight in the discovery of connection: in their academic and creative pursuits, in their relationships, and in all that they experience here. Every day we help our students emerge as flexible, resourceful learners. Because when we do, our students light up with the call and capacity to take on the complexities of their day and of a diverse world.
From the Head of School,
Dr. Mike Walker

Among a scenic backdrop of towering redwoods and rolling ocean waves, the faculty kicked off this school year with a one-day retreat to the Marin Headlands. The cool fresh air was a wonderful way to refresh our understanding of the mission and values of the school, align goals for the year, welcome new colleagues, and get reacquainted with each other after a rejuvenating summer.

We used Gallup CliftonStrengths, an assessment tool designed to identify individual strengths and talents, to frame the day and school year. We discovered the most common strength in the room was “Learner,” a fitting affirmation for a group of curious educators eager to continuously improve. After sharing individual strengths, we gathered in teams to explore how to collectively leverage our talents to further the work we do with students and for families. Ultimately, the goal is to channel these perspectives into how we help students discover, develop, and further their individual talents, strengths, interests, and passions.

To fuel this deep desire for learning, at SF Day Fest 2018, we asked our community to raise paddles to support professional development. We were overwhelmed and inspired by your generous response. Together we raised $380,000 for professional development and Discounted Tuition, a powerful show of support for our community and teachers’ learning, which we know directly impacts and improves the learning of our students.

Last year we invested $270,000 in our teachers’ educational and professional growth, placing us at the top of our INDEX peer schools. In 2017-18, faculty and staff attended over 30 different workshops and conferences to deepen their expertise, expand their knowledge, and improve their professional practice. The topics were as varied and diverse as the locations, including Connected Learning at MIT, UDL Symposium “Empowering Learners” at Harvard University, Art of Tinkering at the Exploratorium in San Francisco, and Equity Design Lab: Culturally Responsive Teaching in Maryland.

Our teachers have been sharing their experiences and takeaways during faculty meetings, and our collective learning will continue throughout the year. I have been both inspired and entertained by the teachers’ reflections and insights as they share how they plan to refine, evolve, and in some cases transform the curriculum, pedagogy, and teaching methodologies to more deeply understand and advance the learning of their students. This, combined with the care and support they provide, results in close relationships that inspire and enable the learning of our students.

We are profoundly grateful to all of you for your steadfast support of our teachers’ ongoing learning and education. Professional development both motivates and sparks the growth and learning of the teachers, which immediately and directly impacts and improves the quality of the educational experience of every child at SF Day. On behalf of our entire faculty and staff, thank you for all of your support and generosity.

Sincerely,
Mike Walker, Ed.D.
Head of School
San Francisco Day School could not be the supportive, creative, and nurturing place it is without the presence of our exceptional faculty. Thank you to all of our teachers and staff who celebrated milestone anniversaries with us this past year. We asked our teachers to share aspects of our school that they most cherish and enjoy.

Faculty Milestones

Michael Cutliff
Security
One of the things about SF Day that I enjoy most are the greetings with teachers and families in the morning. I also love seeing the kids’ smiling faces running into the school.

April Estela
Bookkeeping
My five years of employment and ten years of living next door to SF Day have been filled with the incredible energy and excitement of the students and the lasting friendships I have built with my co-workers.

Noam Scott
Learning Specialist
I love working with students that have such a thirst for knowledge. I am amazed at how inspired they are and in turn, how they inspire me to learn more.

Beth Schenck
Upper School Music
I cherish the relationships I get to have with families over an extended period of time. There are some families where I have taught all four children in their family! That’s a lot of music!

Christopher Sokolov
Director of Innovation and Technology
Something I really cherish about SF Day is the way we are all learning from each other every day. I love it when a student shows me something new for us all to explore.

Aneesha Srikar
4th Grade Teacher
What I cherish most about my time at SF Day are the students I’ve taught! They make me laugh and I love coming to work every day. How lucky am I to have so much fun at my job?!

Naomi Rudolph
Learning Specialist
One of the many things that I love about this school is collaborating with a group of highly educated, motivated, and inspiring educators.

Andy Shin
Executive Director of Breakthrough
I appreciate the generosity of this community. There is a willingness to share space, time, and every possible resource in support of the students and teachers that Breakthrough serves. That level of support is rare and makes such a difference.

Steve Roberts
P.E. Teacher
I love the students, the parents, and my co-workers. I appreciate having the freedom to create programs, share my passions, and showcase student talent in a variety of venues. SF Day has SO much talent! I am inspired every day.
At the end of the 2017-18 school year, Mary O’Brien and Chery Thomas celebrated 30 years with SF Day. We are so grateful to both of them for being essential members of our community and for their wisdom, love, and humor. With 60 years of SF Day expertise between them, we asked Mary and Chery to reflect on their time and share some of their insights.

Over your 30 years at SF Day, what has remained a constant?

M: What has remained constant is how important physical education is. Everyone needs the time and space to move, no matter your ability. This is why I teach what I teach. I have such a passion for physical activity and sports, and I love being able to share that with my students.

C: I like to think that now we are a little older and a little wiser, we embrace the changes that come with being at SF Day for 30 years. It is exciting to see how new ideas can make such an impact on a school that is already so great. As long as we remain true to who we are at the core, then that is all that matters.

What is at the core of SF Day?

C: We are a family. We are all here to make our school the best it can be for our kids. I think that desire to do the very best for our kids has been maintained throughout our history. I saw it as a parent and still see it as an employee. I’m amazed by what our teachers do for our kids.

M: Having compassion for each other and genuinely caring for each other. Here, we know that not everyone thinks the same, and we appreciate that we are all different, and there is a place for all of us here at SF Day. I also got to watch my daughter go through SF Day, and I know that her strength and her successes in life were built from the foundation she got here.

What inspires you about working SF Day?

M: The people; I think the people I work with and that I have seen through the years are just motivating people. They are intelligent, caring, and they love what they do. I see this in our teachers, and also in the families - I think our families are awesome!

C: Basically I have the best job ever. I get to come to school and play with kids and learn something new every day.

Thank you again to Chery and Mary for everything you have done and continue to do for SF Day. We love you!
2017-18 Alumni Council

11 8th Grade Alumni Breakfast
The soon-to-be-alumni class of 2018 enjoyed a special breakfast with Alumni Council members before Sally’s Day.
Just Do It: Catching Up with Rebecca Cohn ’03

Rebecca Cohn is a Strategic Planning Manager for the Global Sportswear Division at Nike, based in Portland, OR. After graduating from San Francisco Day School in 2003, Rebecca attended The Branson School in Marin. She then went on to earn a B.S. in Economics from Trinity College in Hartford, CT, where she was also a four-year letter winner and Captain of the Women’s Basketball team. Following her time at Trinity, Rebecca spent two years as an Investment Banker in New York City before moving back to San Francisco. Rebecca moved to Portland to pursue her dream of working for a company that combined her knowledge of retail and business with her love and passion for all things sport, joining the Nike team in 2016.

How did your time at SF Day help shape who you are today?
My time at SF Day feels so long ago, but it’s amazing how much of an impact it had on me. The teachers and community truly helped seed and nurture my love for sports, which continues to be a huge part of my life to this day. SF Day was the first place I was exposed to team sports, and admittedly P.E. with Ms. O’Brien and Mr. Chang was my favorite class. While not on the playing field, I always enjoyed math, which ultimately helped me develop an interest in business as I began my career in finance. Whether or not I realized it at the time, SF Day taught me the importance of developing a diverse set of interests to continually exercise the mind and body in different ways.

What is it like to work for the biggest sports apparel and footwear brand in the world?
Amazing! Working for a $35 billion company certainly has its challenges, but I truly feel lucky to come to work every day for a brand whose mission is aligned with my own personal values. Understanding the impact we can have as a global company to inspire younger generations to pursue their passions is incredibly rewarding. Of course, the occasional Lebron James, Kevin Durant, or Serena Williams sighting on campus doesn’t hurt either!

What keeps you connected to the school 15 years since graduating?
Community! It’s amazing that after so much time away from SF Day, the impact remains strong. I recently caught up with a few of my old classmates while on a trip to the East Coast and it was as if no time had passed. It’s a special place that helped me build a strong foundation for years to come.
1989
Tachina Rudman-Young is doing great. Happily married to a sweet, beautiful man, and has two lovely and lively children, 3.5 and 6.5 years old. Painting large, happy abstracts and showing them in San Francisco.

1991
Sara Myers Yoo and David Yoo welcomed their son Caleb this summer just before big sister Lena started Kindergarten at SF Day as part of the class of 2027. 1

Nina Willdorf is enjoying coming full circle with her eldest Miriam joining the SF Day class of ‘22. 2

1993
Eric Wong volunteered his filmmaking skills and created a video of students and teachers for our annual benefit, SF Day Fest. 3

1994
Charley Adams started his 12th year teaching 6th grade at Oregon Episcopal School. 6th graders are the best! After nine amazing weeks in the Alaskan wilderness this summer, Leondra and Charley returned to Portland, ready for school - and ski season! 4

1996
Tiffany High brought her daughter to campus to visit Ms. Thomas in August 2017. She is currently living in New Jersey with her family. 4

1996
Willie Adams shares, “Backpacking, hiking, river rafting and skiing fill the time I don’t spend teaching 6th grade at Head-Royce School. If you can’t be in the mountains, life in the East Bay is pretty good.”

1997
Sarah Pearce earned tenure as an associate professor of Spanish literature at New York University and will hold a fellowship at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, during the coming academic year. Sarah’s job lets her spend a lot of time in Spain both teaching and doing research. Her first book, The Andalusi Literary and Intellectual Tradition, was published last year by Indiana University Press.

1998
Hannah Weil and Thomas McKinley welcomed their daughter, Sloane Willa McKinley, earlier this year. Thomas is also the new Alumni Council President for the 2018/19-2019/20 term.

Earlier this year, City Surf Project, co-founded by Johnny Irwin, was recognized by the Jefferson Awards Foundation.

Michael Valmonte and his mother, Felicia, visited campus in February. He was accompanied by Joseph Goldstein-Breyer ’98 and his son Hugo. 5

2000
Jess Ladd was a featured recipient of the 2018 Skoll Award for Social Entrepreneurship for her work as the Founder and CEO of Callisto.

Courtney Mattison received the Joseph C. Palamountain Award for young alumni achievement from her alma mater, Skidmore College. 6

2003
Trevor Hill shares, “After five plus years working in the renewable energy industry in the Bay Area, I moved to Boston this fall to get my MBA at Harvard Business School.”

Sam Reider made a guest appearance with the Human Hands Band at an SF Day all-school assembly. 7
2004
Michael Dwyer has been working in the film industry in Los Angeles as a development executive for a few different companies: Cinelou Films, AtmosphereMM, California Maple, and After Dark Films. Michael was recently an associate producer on projects including: The Comedian, Phoenix Forgotten, The Yellow Birds and Nightmare Cinema.

2006
Robyn Mandel works as an Admissions Associate at the Presidio Hill School and visited the SF Day campus earlier this spring.

2007

2008
Ashley Wilson visited campus in January 2018 and caught up with Ms. Thomas, our SF Day receptionist.

2009
Hannah Valente delivered merchandise for her band, “The She’s,” for our online auction and made sure to see upper school teachers Sabina Piersol and Joel Young.

2010
Luke Hirschhorn caught up with his kindergarten buddy, Jacob Frieman ’18 on the basketball court at SF Day’s Alumni Basketball game.

Tristan Kemitzis graduated cum laude from UCLA with a degree in Business Economics and a minor in Entrepreneurship, and is now working as a Business Planning Analyst at Eataly NYC.

2011
Sacha McElligott is graduating from NYU this year with a major in Neuroscience and minors in Computer Science and Mathematics. He is the recipient of the National Institute of Health’s BP-Endure Fellowship and is currently building predictive algorithms for a team at Morgan Stanley. Sacha plans to pursue a PhD in neuroscience in fall 2019.

2012
Drew Scheve shares, “I am currently a junior at Bowdoin College, but am spending the year studying abroad in Aix-en-Provence, France and Madrid, Spain!”

2013
Anna Hall was a horseback riding teacher at Four Winds Westward Ho summer camp in Washington state where she met current SF Day students Shannon ’20 and Timmy Murray ’19, who were campers there this summer.

2014
Sarah Dean graduated from Lick Wilmerding, and is taking a gap year before starting school at Williams College, Class of 2023. Both Sarah and fellow SF Day classmate, Maya Olin ’14 trekked the John Muir Trail and took this picture at the Mt. Whitney Summit.

2016
Mercer Kriese spent a month studying genetics and biomedical technology at Brown University over the summer, and now is in her junior year at International High School.

2017
Samantha Glickman started sophomore year at Redwood High School in Larkspur!
Class of 2018  Congratulations to the Class of 2018! SF Day is proud to have this class attend 16 different high schools throughout the country – we pride ourselves on helping to guide students to find the school that is right for them. We look forward to the graduates’ future endeavors and achievements as they embark on their high school careers.

Class of 2014  Best wishes to the Class of 2014 as they conclude their high school careers and pursue new opportunities. We are proud to have SF Day alumni attending colleges and universities all over the country.
Celebrating 37 years of SF Day by thanking many of our founders. Last spring, we welcomed teachers and families who helped build SF Day from a dream into a reality that continues to flourish. Founding Head of School Nancy Simon flew in all the way from New England to celebrate with faculty and families who were there from the beginning. We are incredibly grateful to everyone who helped transform SF Day into the special place it is today.
Welcoming Madeleine Albright to SF Day
On May 2, San Francisco Day School was honored to welcome Madeleine Albright, former US Secretary of State, to our school. Secretary Albright shared her wisdom, experiences, and optimism for our country’s future during a school assembly. As a community, we will cherish Secretary Albright’s generous spirit and insightful words – thank you, Dr. Albright.
Our 2017-18 academic year was a productive year full of successes and advancements in several key areas. Thank you to our board for their exceptional leadership and investment in our school. We also want to honor and thank Grace Won, who served as a trustee from 2011-2018 and led as board chair from 2015-2018. For seven years, Grace generously lent her deep wisdom, steady presence, and good humor to several committees. By all measures, SF Day has benefited enormously from her unwavering commitment, thought partnership, and expertise. On behalf of our students, teachers, and community - thank you, Grace!

A Financially Sustainable and Responsible Future
Our school continues to remain on solid footing, thanks to sound fiscal management and the philanthropy of our community.

- A balanced budget with no debt
- A healthy $28.6 million endowment
- An annual endowment draw of $1.2 million

A Record-breaking Annual Fund
These indispensable funds support our teachers and staff, Discounted Tuition, and enriching programs for our students.

- Together, we raised $1.45 million, highest in school history
- 96% of all current families participated
- Classes of 2026, 2020, and 2019 each had 100% parent participation
- Alumni gifts increased by 114%

An Evolved Visual Identity
In 2016, SF Day partnered with branding firm, Mission Minded, to conduct a comprehensive messaging review and branding process involving trustees, faculty and staff, parents, and alumni. In May 2018, SF Day proudly launched its new logo with a video and website to demonstrate our school’s unique perspective, program, and promise. To learn more, please visit www.sfday.org.

A Campus That is As Excellent as the Program
A critical aspect of our school’s future is the proposed campus expansion. As a result of the board’s efforts in recent years, SF Day submitted its conditional use application to the City and has been gratified by the response of the City and our neighbors. Our Master Planning Committee will continue to provide news as the year goes on.

A Heartfelt Thank You from Grace Won, 2015-18 Board Chair
Each year, the board manages the exciting transition as trustees roll on and off. This year, we said goodbye to Tommy Davis ’96, Cathy Dean, Bert Galleno, John Hayashi, Janet McKinley, Ken McNeely, and Topher Solmsen. In addition, Dillon Rogers ’92 (Alumni Council President) and Ginny Conner (PA President) ended their terms. The school has been well-served and is deeply fortunate to have had the wise counsel of these leaders.

As this overview recounts, San Francisco Day School is thriving. Good governance helps make this possible and your support makes it a reality. Time and again, this community has shown up for its values by volunteering countless hours of its time, by supporting Discounted Tuition, SF Day Fest and the Annual Fund, and by saying yes to initiatives that allow faculty, staff and administration to grow and learn. By example, we are showing the students what it means to be a diverse and inclusive community that pulls together and supports one another. Thank you for your commitment to SF Day.

On a personal note, it has been a pleasure to serve on the board for the past seven years. I have witnessed many changes, but the core of what makes SF Day special remains the same, and I am not just talking about the school song. It is the enthusiasm, generosity, and curiosity of its students and the adults around them that make SF Day a wonderful place to learn, and it is with optimism for the future that I say, “GO ‘PHINS!”
Jeremiah Lane

Jeremiah is a partner at Kohlberg Kravis Roberts & Co. where he works in the credit business. He currently serves as a member of the Leveraged Credit Investment Committee, oversees an analyst team, and is a portfolio manager. He joined KKR in 2005 and spent the first nine years as a research analyst covering different industries before transitioning to his current responsibilities. A native of New York City, Jeremiah moved to San Francisco in 2001 to start his career with JPMorgan. He holds an A.B. with honors in history from Harvard University. Jeremiah has served as co-chair of SF Day’s Annual Fund for several years. He and his wife, Naomi Meyers, have three children at SF Day: a daughter in fifth grade and twins in first grade.

Jill Robertson

Jill is president at Office, an award-winning creative studio that collaborates with Fortune 100 companies, start-ups, and non-profits to craft brand strategies and design experiences. Recognized for excellence and innovation, Office received the Smithsonian’s Cooper Hewitt National Design Award, and was honored by First Lady Michelle Obama at the White House. Jill is passionate about donating Office’s time and talent to local organizations 826 Valencia, La Cocina, and others. She is also co-founder of Wee Society -- a company that aims to spark kids’ imaginations and inspire creativity -- where she creates apps, games, and books. Previously, Jill worked at Gap Inc. and led communications for the office of the CEO. She started her career at UC Berkeley as an advisor to undergraduates. Jill received her B.A. in journalism from Iowa State University and J.D. from University of Minnesota Law School. She and her husband, Jason Schulte, have twin boys in second grade at SF Day.

Tomonori Tani

Tomonori is a Partner of Capital Group Companies, serving as an investment analyst for Asia Pacific financial institutions and a global portfolio manager. He has worked in the San Francisco, Hong Kong, and Tokyo offices of Capital Group Companies for the last 14 years. Before joining Capital Group Companies, he worked for Fidelity Investments Japan as an analyst. Tomonori was born and raised in Japan and graduated from Sophia University, Tokyo, with a B.A. in international economics. During his college years, he worked as a full time economist at Profit Research Center and contributed several articles in the Japanese economic journals. Besides his profession, he is devoted to restoration of government-designated important cultural properties in Japan. Tomonori has been serving on the board of San Francisco Japanese School since 2017 and served as the chair of the parent association of the school in 2017. He and his wife, Sakiko, have a son in second grade at SF Day, and a one-year-old son.

Trish Tierney

Trish co-founded WAKE, a non-profit that gets tech tools, training and resources to organizations and activists working to advance the rights of women and girls around the globe. Prior to co-founding WAKE, Trish was Executive Director of the Institute of International Education (IIE) in San Francisco, where she founded IIE’s Center for Women’s Leadership Initiatives and edited the book, Women in the Global Economy: Leading Social Change. Prior to that, Trish helped bring Cisco System’s Networking Academy Program to the world’s fifty least developed countries. Trish spent several years at the World Bank, working on education reform and girls’ education in Africa. Trish also served as an Advisor to the Clinton Global Initiative, and is an ambassador for Same Sky, a foundation that creates employment opportunities for Rwandan women. Trish obtained her B.A. in English literature and gender studies from University of Notre Dame and her M.A. in international studies at The John Hopkins University. Trish served as co-chair of SF Day’s Annual Fund for several years. She and her husband, Chris Flanagan, have a daughter in eighth grade and a daughter in fourth grade at SF Day, and a son who graduated from SF Day in 2017.
Deirdre Nonaka
Parents Association President
Deirdre grew up in New Jersey and received a B.A. in East Asian Studies from Middlebury College in Vermont. She spent the early part of her career in New York City as the Director of International Licensing for J.Crew where she managed all aspects of the company’s businesses in Korea and Japan. After moving to San Francisco in 1999 she switched focus to market research and brand management consulting for fashion and textile companies and internet startups developing technology for online retailers. In 2008, her family moved to Tokyo and after five years abroad, returned to San Francisco and to SF Day. Deirdre served on the Board of Directors for Nishimachi International School and on the parent board of their Japanese school in San Mateo. At SF Day she has served as treasurer for the Parents Association and co-chair of the Admissions Committee. Deirdre and her husband, Scott, have a son in seventh grade at SF Day and two alumni children (Lily ’16 and Xander ’18).

Thomas McKinley ’98
Alumni Council President
Thomas is a Vice President at Tidewater Capital. His primary focus is acquisitions and capital markets and he sits on Tidewater’s Investment Committee. Prior to joining Tidewater, Thomas served as a Director of The Ackman-Ziff Real Estate Group, working on the placement of over $2.0B of debt and equity in projects throughout the Bay Area. Thomas is a born and raised San Franciscan who feels passionately about his community. He is engaged in numerous philanthropic efforts tackling poverty and education throughout the Bay Area. Thomas is an active member of The Guardsmen, a San Francisco charity supporting at risk youth in Northern California. Additionally, he sits on the Board of the Bowdoin College Art Museum, the Bowdoin College Athletic Department and the Advisory Board of the NYU Center for Real Estate Finance Research. Thomas holds an M.B.A. from New York University where he studied finance and real estate and a B.A. from Bowdoin College. His parents, Tom and Janet, have been active supporters of SF Day, along with his siblings, Sara ’95 and Kathryn ’01. Thomas and his wife Hannah welcomed their first child in 2018.

The word “community” is often used in response to the question, “What makes SF Day so special?” Indeed, when our parents, faculty, students, alumni, grandparents, trustees, and friends come together, the strength and power of our collective school spirit is undeniable, and our depth of generosity is unmatched. The wonderful success of our Annual Fund, Endowment, SF Day Fest, and Raise Your Paddle are each a testament to the steadfast commitment of the SF Day community. With the leadership of our Parents Association and many volunteer committees, we are set for success, and we are so grateful.

This year, we celebrated the SF Day community by shining a light on the stars among us; these are the people who inspire us and make us shine. In March 2018, our community gathered together at a new venue, The Palace Hotel, to continue its ongoing support of discounted tuition and professional development. We thank all of our volunteers, underwriters, and donors who contributed their invaluable resources to Shine Like a Star and came out to support SF Day’s commitment to affordability and accessibility. Together, we raised over $350,000! Shine On!

Your Support at Work

Your generosity in the 2017-18 school year directly supported our innovative and dedicated faculty as they advanced the academics, unleashed the designers, nurtured the tinkerers, inspired the musicians, and directed the thespians in all of our students. The qualities of these learning experiences help our students delight in the discovery of connection: in their academic and creative pursuits, in their relationships, and in all that they experience here.

SEPTEMBER
Our founding values of diversity and inclusion have sustained the SF Day community for 37 years. In 2017-18, SF Day offered $1.9 million in tuition assistance to 21% of our student body.

OCTOBER
All students are encouraged to explore creative, intellectual, and physical endeavors throughout the school year. Over 85% of students played on at least one of our 20+ SF Day teams this past year and sharpened their athletic, leadership, and team-building skills.

NOVEMBER
November’s all-school assembly focused on “service” and featured alumni guests, each with a unique path to serving their community. Teaching leadership through surfing, creating software to end bullying, serving in the military, and starting a teen health non-profit are all ways our alumni model the commitment to community that begins at SF Day.

DECEMBER
The SF Day robotics team, Digital Dolphins, competed at the First Lego League Qualifying Tournament held at Lowell High School. As part of the team, students had the opportunity to tinker and build in class, during recess, and after school.

JANUARY
First graders learned about the U.S. Postal Service by creating mail routes throughout the school. During their mapping explorations, each first grader visited different rooms across campus and became pen pals with various faculty members.

FEBRUARY
Third graders combined their knowledge of music and the science of sound to make handmade instruments, and performed a concert with their new instruments.

MARCH
Each spring, the esteemed citizens of Athens and the Gods of Mount Olympus gather for Greek Night. Greek Night is a SF Day tradition and an example of interdisciplinary collaboration between language arts and world history.

APRIL
Third through eighth graders experience at least one overnight trip a year to explore personal risk-taking, relationship-building, and self-reflection while learning about the outdoors.

MAY
Madeleine Albright, former U.S. Secretary of State, shared her wisdom, experiences, and optimism for our country’s future during a school assembly. Our students had the opportunity to ask questions and listen to Dr. Albright’s stories of being an immigrant in the U.S. and the importance of empathy.

JUNE-AUGUST
SF Day provides teachers and staff opportunities for professional development in the summer and throughout the year. In 2017-18, every faculty and staff member participated in at least one professional development program.
San Francisco Day School ended the fiscal year with a strong balance sheet, which helps uphold the outstanding educational program and experience for our students. We offer our enduring gratitude for the steadfast support of our community.

Financial Highlights 2017-18

Thanks to You

This year, you brought SF Day to higher heights with a record-breaking Annual Fund. Thanks to you, our generous donors and volunteers, we had an incredible year in supporting our school’s mission and program and raised an unprecedented $1.45 million. Here are a few more highlights:

- Parent participation in the Annual Fund reached 96%
- Three grade levels reached 100% parent participation
- Alumni participation saw an increase of 114%

Our deep gratitude goes to our current parents, trustees, alumni, parents of alumni, grandparents, faculty, staff, and friends for supporting the people and programs that make SF Day so special.

The Annual Fund is the collective gift of our entire school community and we thank you for your generosity!

With appreciation,

Erin, Lauren, Jamie ’02, Jamie, and Michelle

Financial gifts to San Francisco Day School are not only greatly appreciated, but essential to sustaining the quality and depth of program our students experience every day.

Over the course of the 2017-18 school year, SF Day parents and guardians, faculty, trustees, alumni, parents of alumni, grandparents, and friends generously gave to a number of funds that help create an environment of collaboration and support that nurtures and inspires every SF Day student. Listed as follows are the names of all the members of our community who donated to any fund during the 2017-18 school year, including the Annual Fund, Endowment, Library Media Center, Discounted Tuition, and SF Day Fest.

The school we love was built by generations of people who have lent their time, talents, energy, and financial resources to make SF Day the remarkable place it is today. Generous gifts from parents, parents of alumni, grandparents, faculty, and staff built our $28.6 million endowment, an exceptional achievement for a 37-year-old school. Gifts to SF Day’s endowment are an investment in our long-term financial stability and an opportunity to significantly grow support for our educational programs, our faculty’s professional development, and Discounted Tuition. In 2017-18, the endowment draw provided $1.2 million to support the school’s operating budget. We are grateful for the endowment gifts from families and friends of SF Day to support our effort in maintaining a strong financial standing well into the future.

INVESTMENTS
2017-18 Total $28,619,398*

Gifts to the endowment help preserve the financial and academic health of San Francisco Day School. Investments in SF Day’s endowment ensure the overall fiscal security of the school while providing for faculty salaries, and faculty and curriculum development.

* Excludes $2.3M designated for the Breakthrough program and $.1M in pledges to SF Day
Endowment Gifts and Funds 2017-18

Endowing Excellence for SF Day
Established in 2011 with gifts from families and friends of SF Day following the adoption of the 2011-12 strategic plan, The Power of Potential. This campaign specifically focused on endowment growth to increase the long-term financial sustainability of SF Day. Portions are allocated for Discounted Tuition, Institute for Teaching and Learning, and differentiated instruction programs. Additional gifts to the campaign are included in other endowed funds.

$7,219,872

Cornerstone Campaign - Imagine our Tomorrow
Established in 2001 with gifts from families and friends of SF Day to boost the school’s endowment for faculty salaries, program support, and Discounted Tuition.

Dear Friends of Breakthrough,

One of the most gratifying moments I’ve had as an educator came last May, at Breakthrough’s first-ever Commencement Celebration. That night, we honored the 20 members of our inaugural graduating class as they completed our program after eight years. One at a time, each student came to the front of the gym to receive a stole and framed certificate, followed by a college T-shirt. All are now in their first semester at schools ranging from UC Santa Cruz to Lewis & Clark College to MIT. Having known them since fourth grade, I have trouble wrapping my head around how much they’ve grown.

The evening was the culmination of years of investment, not only by our students, but also on the part of our teachers, volunteers, staff, and supporters. In 2009, we began work on an expansion plan with the intention of boosting our long-term impact. In 2012, we began to grow, phasing in support for seventh graders and continuing to add one grade level annually. In 2018, we realized our goal of 100% college matriculation, including 95% at four-year schools. This is a huge collective accomplishment.

We hope to continue this level of success with our current class of 31 seniors. In all, 244 students in grades 5 - 12 are enrolled in our program in 2018-19. 90% will be the first in their families to attend a four-year college. All have made an eight-year commitment to attend our summer, after-school, and Saturday programming. Also this year, 29 top-notch college students took part in our summer teacher residency. Over the course of eight weeks, they received high-quality training and ongoing support, including individualized coaching from an experienced educator. At the end of the summer, 89% of our fellows reported increased interest in an education career, while 96% said they were better prepared to enter the teaching profession.
Our work is made possible by the commitment of so many. I want to acknowledge our hard-working staff and committed volunteers - over 100 annually. Thanks to our many foundation, corporate, and individual supporters for their belief in what we do. Special thanks to San Francisco’s Department of Children, Youth, and Their Families for its incredible investment in Breakthrough of $1.7M over the next five years - an immeasurable contribution to our sustainability. Finally, thanks to San Francisco Day School for its unwavering support of this work. 2018 marks 25 years that Breakthrough has made its home here, with students, families, faculty, staff, and administration all playing a part. Thank you, SF Day.

With appreciation,

Student Profile: Nashira

Applying to Breakthrough as a fourth grader, Nashira had mixed feelings about spending her summer in school. That changed once the summer program began. “On the first day, I was so excited!” she says. “The classes, the teachers – we had so much fun.”

Nashira fit right in at Breakthrough and worked hard. In math class, she studied operations with fractions and positive and negative integers. She discovered a knack for problem solving, and liked the math-related games and her teacher Jeena’s insistence that every student learn the material – “She wouldn’t stop teaching until we really knew it.” In science, Nashira learned about gravity, atmosphere, and the water cycle, and made a model of Earth for her end-of-summer project. In writing class, a unique voice began to emerge – one full of sensory detail, and with solid paragraph structure.

A cheerleader and dancer, Nashira was enthusiastic pretty much all the time. She helped her club earn the Most Spirited award, and pushed her advisory to win the Breakthrough-wide reading competition. On Community Day, she performed a dance with her mom – a mother-daughter moment that brought cheers from the audience. She also made it several rounds into the water balloon toss at Olympics before finally getting soaked.

Breakthrough was a two-year program when Nashira started. But during her sixth grade year, Breakthrough secured the funding to expand, growing into an eight-year program with four-year college attendance as the ultimate goal. Nashira stuck with it for the six years that followed. She gained admission to St. Ignatius College Preparatory School as a ninth grader and continued to work hard and succeed academically, while giving back to Breakthrough as an after-school program tutor and summer volunteer. In the spring of 2018, she graduated both from high school and from Breakthrough, a member of our inaugural graduating class. She is currently in her first year at San Jose State University.

“I appreciate Breakthrough so much,” she says. “I don’t believe I would’ve been able to get here without them. They’ve helped me through it all.”
As a seventh grader, Cal had to lead a class activity for a history assignment. "I remember the thrill of being in front of the classroom," he says. "It felt very natural."

He continued to seek out that feeling. At St. Ignatius College Prep, he tutored middle school students and coached a basketball team. At UC Berkeley, he served as a tutor and workshop leader at the writing center. The summer after his junior year there, Cal joined Breakthrough as a Teaching Fellow.

"It was beyond anything I expected – the amount of work involved," he recalls. "But it was made worthwhile by interactions with the kids everyday. Also the community that the directors fostered among us as teachers – we really worked as a team." The culture of hard work and high expectations was hard to resist. Cal taught writing that summer and was gratified by the progress his students made in a short period of time. "The improvement we saw in six weeks was impressive – the way the students were able to structure their paragraphs and build a coherent argument."

After graduating from college the following spring, Cal spent another summer as a Breakthrough Teaching Fellow, and then completed the MATCH Teacher Residency, a rigorous teacher preparation program in Boston. He's now in his seventh year teaching history and Writing for College at Eastside College Preparatory School, a high-performing 6-12 independent school in East Palo Alto that focuses on first-generation college students. He's also served as head Cross Country coach for the past six seasons.

Cal's two summers at Breakthrough serve as a foundation for the work he does now. "I wasn't a great teacher as a college student," he reflects, "but I was a teacher who was improving, thanks to the really thoughtful feedback I was getting on a day-to-day basis. Even when I felt like I had a good lesson, my Coaches found ways to push me and help me be more reflective about my practice. Breakthrough is bar none the best preparation I've heard of."

Inspired to train the next generation, Cal returned to Breakthrough as an Instructional Coach in 2014. As a highly effective teacher who had walked in the shoes of our Teaching Fellows, he was a powerful role model. "Breakthrough was the single most empowering experience of my life," he wrote after his first summer in the classroom. "It taught me not just what it means to work hard, but to work with a sense of purpose and impact. Every minute I spent with the program, I felt like I was influencing the world around me, my coworkers, and my students. More than anything, it taught me the joy of watching children grow and learn, a joy that I'm sure to carry with me."

We are deeply grateful to the generous donors who supported San Francisco Day School during the fiscal year of July 1, 2017 through June 30, 2018. Every effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of the information and listings in this report. Please accept our sincere apologies for any errors or omissions. Please bring oversights to the attention of the SF Day Advancement Office.
